

The FDTL5 Enhancing Graduate Employability Project is delighted to invite you to attend a one-day workshop entitled:

Graduate Employability: The what, the why, and the how?

Tuesday 16th June 2009, 10am - 4pm (coffee and registration from 9.30am)
Oxford Brookes University Business School, Wheatley Campus

Confirmed Keynote Speakers include:

- Carl Gilleard, Chief Executive, Association of Graduate Recruiters
- Dr Dawn Lees, Employability Co-ordinator, University of Exeter
- Helen Connor, Associate Director, Council for Industry and Higher Education

This workshop will provide an opportunity to:

- Explore institutional approaches to embedding employability
- Explore some key issues surrounding graduate employability
- Consider the demand for graduate skills in a difficult economic climate
- Enable the sharing of best practice within the higher education sector to enhance graduate level employability

Attendance is free of charge but places are limited. The event will be of interest to academics with an interest in employability from across subject disciplines, careers advisors, senior institutional staff and employers.

To register for this workshop please complete the form overleaf or e-mail: hlst@brookes.ac.uk

Complimentary copies of the following publications will be available on the day:

“Delivering Graduate Employability: Case studies in Hospitality, Leisure, Sport and Tourism”

Edited by Sarah Graves and Angela Maher

and

“Graduate Employability: Can higher education deliver?”

Angela Maher and Sarah Graves

The workshop is being run by the FDTL5 Enhancing Graduate Employability Project and is supported by the HLST and BMAF Higher Education Academy Subject Centres and the Oxford Brookes University Careers and Employment Service.

The FDTL5 ‘Enhancing Graduate Employability’ project is directed by Oxford Brookes University and funded by the Higher Education Funding Council for England (HEFCE) and the Department for Employment and Learning (DEL). Further detailed information and resources can be found on the project website at www.enhancingemployability.org.uk
