

5th National FORREST Conference 2009
 (FORnsic RESearch and Teaching)
 30th June – 1st July
 Liverpool John Moores University

Conference Programme

30th June 2009

10.00- 11.00	Conference Registration & Refreshments
11.00 - 11.10	Conference Welcome
11.10- 12.10	Keynote 1 Scenes of crime officer training: is there a potential role for Universities within the system? Colin Crawley Chief training officer with Merseyside Police
12.10 - 12.50	Parallel sessions
12.10 - 12.30	O1 The role of photography in the learning, teaching and assessment of human identification David Bryson, University of Derby	O3 Evaluating the potential application of microbial DNA profiling to forensic soil comparisons Venetia A. Saunders, Liverpool John Moores University, and Lorraine E. Heath, Washington State Patrol Crime Laboratory
12.30 - 12.50	O2 The Hulton Abbey Skeletal Digitisation Project John Cassella, Staffordshire University, Mary Lewis, University of Reading, Roger Brown, Staffordshire University and Paul Lucking, Staffordshire University	O4 Dating Death: Forensic Taphonomy and the Post Mortem Interval Christopher J. Rogers, Wera M. Schmerer, Michael P. Whitehead and Raul Sutton, University of Wolverhampton
12.50 - 13.50	Lunch
13.50 - 15.00	Parallel Workshops
	W1 Fingerprint Identification: "Can you put your finger on it?" Philip Gilhooley, Liverpool John Moores University	W2 Laughter – a good teaching aid? Janice M Kennedy, University of the West of Scotland	W3 Use of electron microscopy for forensic analysis of Gunshot residue Paul Gibbons Liverpool John Moores University
			W4 Using the Forensic Casework Project material in teaching and assessment Andrew Morrison and Dave Barclay, Robert Gordon University

5th National FORREST Conference 2009
(FORensic RESearch and Teaching)
30th June – 1st July
Liverpool John Moores University

15.00 - 15.40	Parallel sessions
15.00 - 15.20	O5 Introducing Reflective Practice to First Year Forensic Science Students Keith Sturrock, University of Abertay Dundee	O7 A comparison between ORO and Physical Developer under different liquid conditions Michael A Wood, Tim James, University of Teesside
15.20 - 15.40	O6 A New Approach to Teaching a Level 3 Forensic Science Module Andrew Reid, Coventry University	O8 Glass Analysis using the Scanning Electron Microscope and X-ray Microanalyser Stephen Ling, University of Glamorgan
15.40 - 16:00	Refreshments
16:00 - 17.00	RSC keynote – Public lecture
17:00 - 18:30	Poster session, refreshments, networking time and prize giving
20:00	Evening meal at Holiday Inn

5th National FORREST Conference 2009
(FORnsic RESearch and Teaching)
30th June – 1st July
Liverpool John Moores University

1st July 2009

09.00 - 09.30	Conference Registration
09.30 - 10.30	Parallel sessions
09.30 - 09.50	O9 Mapping 3-D virtual worlds onto problem-based learning for forensics Dr Olivia Corcoran, Dr Stephanie Henderson-Begg and Rose Heaney, University of East London		O12 The Development of an Effective Method for the Collection and Storage of Prisoner's Footwear Impressions: A Collaborative Project with Cleveland Police Helen Tidy and Laura Wade, University of Teesside
09.50 - 10.10	O10 Blended Learning in Forensic Pathology – the way forward? John Cassella, Staffordshire University and Sally Cassella, University of Derby		O13 Studies in Gun Shot Residue Analysis and The Etching of Fingerprints on Metal Surfaces Lisa C. Reid, Matthew J. Almond, and Stuart Black, University of Reading, and John Bond, Northamptonshire Police
10.10 - 10.30	O11 Reaching the Parts that Other Forensic Educators Don't Reach Dr Carole McCartney, University of Leeds, John Cassella, Staffordshire University, Paul Chin, Physical Sciences Centre		O14 From Honours Project to Published Paper: the Development of an Etching Paste Dr Graham Wightman, University of Abertay
10.30 - 11.00	Refreshments
11.00 - 11.30	O15 ACPO future forensics: strategy and innovation Julie Mennell, Northumbria University
11.30 - 12.30	Parallel Workshops
	W1 Fingerprint Identification: "Can you put your finger on it?" Philip Gilhooley, Liverpool John Moores University	W2 Laughter – a good teaching aid? Janice M Kennedy, University of the West of Scotland	W3 Use of electron microscopy for forensic analysis of Gunshot residue Paul Gibbons, Liverpool John Moores University	W4 Using the Forensic Casework Project material in teaching and assessment Andrew Morrison and Dave Barclay, Robert Gordon University
12.30 - 13.30	Lunch
13.30 - 14.30	Keynote 2 Fingerprint Development and Imaging – Fundamental Research to Operational Implementation Steve Bleay, Home Office Scientific Development Branch
14.30 - 15.00	Close of conference			